THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 11.
THANKSGIVING.

The President Names the Last Thursday in November as the Day.

It has been the custom of the people of the United States, on a day in each year especially set apart for that purpose by the Chief Executive, to acknowledge the goodness and mercy of God, and to invoke His continued prayer and protection.

An observance of such custom, I. Grover Cleveland, President of the United States, has hereby designated and set apart Thursday, the 25th day of November, next, to be observed and kept as a day of Thanksgiving and prayer.

On that day let all our people forego their accustomed employments, and assemble in their usual places of worship to give thanks to the Father of the universe for their continued enjoyment of the blessing of a free government, for the peaceful and prosperous condition of the country, and for the mercies of God, and to invoke His continued prayer and protection.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this first day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and eleventh.

GROVER CLEVELAND.
By the President:
T. F. BAYARD, Secretary of State.

Speaker Carlisle, who is now in Kansas, is made to say in an interview that he did not consider the result of the late elections damaging to the tariff reform issue generally. He contradicted the report that he contemplated removing from Kentucky.

The internal revenue collectors are reported to express great surprise at the magnitude of the oleomargarine business. The figures for the one week the law has been in operation indicate that the revenue for the fiscal year will be $1,000,000 to $1,500,000. Makers of oleomargarine claim that the law will not affect the volume of their business, and indeed may prove to be a help to it, as legitimizing the traffic.

The total distribution of shad by the United States Fish Commission this season aggregates over 90,000,000, of which 4,738,000 were deposited in the Mississippi river and minor tributaries of the Gulf of Mexico. The entire cost of production and distribution has been less than $20,000, and therefore the young fish have been produced and distributed over the entire United States at the cost of about $215 for 1,000,000, or forty-six young fish for each cent of expenditure.

Governor Oglesby, says the New York Tribune, seems to have heard that Wisconsin re-elected Governor Rusk last Tuesday with an increased majority, due to his efficiency in keeping the peace early last summer when labor troubles ran riot in his state. At least the governor has called upon the militia to maintain order in the suburbs of Chicago during the strike of the pork and beef packers just begun. He refused to do this last May. It is possible that the militiamen will be seriously needed; and in any event it is wise to have them ready. The owners of the pork and beef houses are thereby spared the necessity of hiring and arming private detectives to protect their property—a step which has always irritated strikers in Chicago.

A singular instance of the contagiousness of consumption is related by a French medical journal. A young man who had contracted bronchitis married a healthy woman. Within a year he died of consumption; not long afterwards his widow's lungs were found to be fatally diseased; and their child speedily followed them. One of their neighbors, a robust young woman, was suddenly attacked with the same disease. When she had called repeatedly at the house of the consumptive family, she had never remained in the sick room over night; but she had eaten chickens which had been killed on their farm. As it was reported that several of these fowls had died prematurely, the medical authorities decided to have other chickens killed and examined. It was then discovered that the fowls had contracted consumption, their livers contained the bacilli now recognized as characteristic of the disease. These fowls had swallowed the spores of the infected family and contracted the disease; and the unlucky neighbor's daughter, who had eaten one of the fowls' livers, became a victim in her turn. This is one of the most remarkable stories ever vouched for by a medical journal.

A POSSIBILITY.

A Washington special says that in the event the next Presidential election should be thrown into congress by the failure of any candidate to receive a majority of all the electoral votes cast, the house of representatives would, in accordance with the constitution, be required to "choose immediately by ballot the President." In making that choice the votes shall be taken by States, the representation from each state having one vote, so that in order to carry the election one party or the other must control the delegations from a majority of the States. The dispatch goes on to say that there are thirty-eight states, but New Hampshire has a delegation equally divided—one republican and one democrat—hence the vote of that would be silent in the choice of a president by the house. Rhode Island has elected one republican and in her other district there is a vacancy, but the politics of the state renders it almost certain that before the Fifteenth congress meets that vacancy will be filled

BULGARIA'S SELECTION.

WALDEMAR OF DENMARK OFFERED AN UNEASY THRONE.

Russia Promptly Voices Her Dissent and the Chosen One is Highly Uncertain—Salisbury's Speech Serves as a Tonic for Austria—An Irish Justice Explains—Foreign Miscellaneous.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—The Bulgarian sovereign has brought the difficulty in this principality to a head by the election Wednesday morning of Prince Waldemar, third son of the king of Denmark, to be successor of Prince Alexander to the throne of Bulgaria. After the election the president of the assembly informed that body of his confidence that the European powers would undoubtedly ratify the sovereign's action. Although there was among the deputies a considerable show of enthusiasm over the choice of Prince Waldemar, the feeling was not shared by the occupants of the public galleries, who remained silent.

The president of the sovereign appointed a deputation to convey to Prince Waldemar, who is staying at Cannes, the offer of the throne of Bulgaria. M. Karawoff has resigned from the Bulgarian government and it is impossible to avoid the veto power of the czar in any other way. But in fixing upon Prince Waldemar, the assembly shows that it desires to avert further complications by presenting an unexceptional prince-elect for confirmation by the great powers and the sultan. The prince's acceptance of the honor is, however, very much questioned. He will certainly decline if there is risk of the czar's opposition.

M. Munkoff and Stambouloff will also resign from the regency in order to remove all obstacles to the election of a new regency. Both will without doubt be re-elected.

The Austrian Backbone Stiffened.

PARIS, Nov. 11.—Lord Salisbury's speech at the lord mayor's banquet Tuesday evening is considered to be a general strengthening of the position of Count Kalnoky. The excited state of feeling in the Hungarian diet is rapidly becoming composed, and the deputies are less distrustful of the imperial promises. A committee of the diet will probably be appointed to examine the government's resistance to the establishment of Russian influence over the government of Bulgaria.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—The German and Austrian press are generally favorable to their comments on Lord Salisbury's speech, and characterize it as tending to preserve the peace of Europe. Many papers, however, decline to express opinions, preferring to wait until Count Kalnoky has spoken. The expectation being that the Austrian premier's utterances will throw some light on the Anglo-Austrian entente cordiale.

RAILWAY CONSOLIDATION TALK.

An Alleged New Line to the Southwest—A Pennsylvania Scheme.

New York, Nov. 11.—The Wall Street Daily Leader has the following: "We are informed that for over a month engineers have been in the field surveying for the road connecting the New York & New England railway with the Erie and Lehigh & Hudson river roads. Grinnell Burt, president of the Lehigh & Hudson river railway company, has practically consolidated his road with the Lehigh Coal Navigation company. He says the route will be the great central highway between the east, the coal fields, and the southwest. The Lehigh and Hudson river and the New York, Ontario & Western railways have agreed to a joint agreement with General Manager Swan of the St. John Bridge company, by which they are to add the construction of the proposed new route across the Hudson river to connect with the New York & New England railway. They also agree to make traffic arrangements for all their eastern freight, which they specify will exceed 5,000,000 tons per year.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 11.—President Wilbur of the Lehigh Valley railway, said Wednesday that there was no truth in the rumors connecting that company with the formation of a new through line to the west. They had been approached with overtures to that purpose, but they had not approved any of the schemes presented. Notwithstanding Mr. Wilbur's statement, it is claimed by persons who should be well informed that people interested in the Lehigh Valley railway will be interested in the new line.

THE FIGHT IN INDIANA.

Legislative Districts the Republicans Will Contest—The Democrats.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 11.—The Republicans have given indications that they will contest the election of Governor in the Jennings and Scott legislative districts. It was declared earlier by a plurality of 18, and the Republicans assert that this plurality was the result of fraud. By rejecting McGhee in the Jennings district and by sending his opponent a tie will be created. Frauds in the Vigo, Vermillion, and Sullivan districts are alleged, and Republicans say they will be able to establish that their candidate is fairly entitled to the seat held at present by a Democrat. This will give them a majority of two, and if the contest in Jennings and Scott counties referred to above is sustained, the majority on joint ballot will be increased to four. In the Clark and Jefferson senatorial districts the Republicans will also contest, but should they be successful on their account, the Democrats will be slow to see a Republican in a Democratic seat.

Work Done by the Turf Congress.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 11.—The fourth annual session of the American Turf congress met at the Gibson house Wednesday, and it is proposed to make a general revision of the laws governing the race-track before final adjournment. A good deal of business was got through with Wednesday. Among the important changes made were those making the entry state the real name of the owner, name and description of the horse, and his certain age; excluding all persons from the course to be run over except officials, owners and trainers; all bets to be considered pay or pay, unless otherwise stipulated. All the changes are for the purpose of making honest racing legitimate and square. Among the late arrivals are S. B. Brown, of Pittsburgh, the millionaire coal king; C. F. Simmonds, D. D. Bell, of Lexington, Ky.; W. H. Gillock, of Nashville, Tenn.; J. E. Brewster, of Chicago; Lewis F. Clark, of Louisville, Ky.; and others.

CONSEQUENCES OF A BAD SPELL.

With Certain Robust "ifs" It Changes the Result in New Hampshire.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 11.—The mis-spelling of the name of a select-man in the election warrant in Ward 5 has disclosed the fact that the election warrant was illegal in that form. The law was not followed in the posting of it. This is sufficient to invalidate the election. If established it would result in the election of Mr. Sawyer, Republican, to the governorship by the people, in the re-election of Congressman Rogers in place of his Democratic opponent, McKimney, and in the reversal of the election of the Democratic mayor of the city. It would also invalidate the election of several Democratic representatives to the legislature, and would probably change the result in the election of the state senator, councillor, and the county officers. That the verdict of illegality could be sustained in regard to all these cases is doubtful. For the matter, would have to be tried before seven different tribunals, one for each officer or set of officers; but it is believed that a successful contest could be made in the cases of most of them.

The greatest doubt is in the most important case, that of the congressmen, which would have to be tried before the Democratic congress. The law requires that the warrant shall be made out at least two weeks before the election; that it shall be signed and sworn to by the selectmen, and that at least two attested copies shall be posted in conspicuous places in the ward the same length of time before the election takes place. It appears that the clerk made out the original warrant and the two copies, posting the latter, to which he had signed the names of the selectmen. The original warrant was not actually signed until the morning of the election.

Let Her Go, Gallagher.

St. Louis, Nov. 11.—Mr. Nathan Frank, Rep., who was beaten by John M. Glover, Dem., in the Ninth congressional district of Missouri, announces his intention of contesting the seat. Mr. Glover's plurality, as certified by the recorder of votes, is 124, but the reports of the federal supervisors of the election show that there were more than 100 Republicans distributed by being stricken off the registry. The contest promises to be a revolution, as Mr. Glover claims that he will show up the custom house ring as all being in a conspiracy to elect a Republican.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese in Council.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—The thirteenth annual convention of the Butter, Cheese and Egg association was begun Wednesday afternoon at the Columbia theatre, where the Chicago produce exchange tendered the delegates a reception. Mayor Harrison welcomed them to the city, and the speakers were introduced by Governor Oglesby. A. M. Wright, president of the board of trade; Congressman Winsor, of New York; president of the association; and other delegates, representing all parts of the country, are in attendance.

The Japs Visit the White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Prince Komatsu of Japan and party, accompanied by the Japanese minister, called at the state department Wednesday morning. They paid their respects to the secretary of state, and accompanied by him, proceeded to the executive mansion to pay their respects to the president and Mrs. Cleveland. They were received in the blue parlor and remained some time, enjoying a social chat, and then returned to their hotel. The prince and his party called for New York at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

"Hills" Florence and Wife in "Fishes."

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—The reception to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Florence, the popular eastern actors, Tuesday night, amounted to a perfect ovation. Hundreds of people had to be turned away, so great was the throng that had gathered to pay their respects and welcome Mr. Florence and Mrs. Florence to the Pacific coast. The floral offerings were profuse, many of them being of unique and elegant design. Taken altogether, the reception was one of the greatest ever given.

An Opportunity for Star-Gazers.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Astronomers are invited to observe the transit of Venus on the night of Nov. 12 and 13, which will be hidden by the moon, one after the other. The occultations will be visible in this latitude if the weather is clear. The occultations of several of the stars, it is said, will be visible with the naked eye.

Governor Oglesby Considers.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 11.—In accordance with the president's proclamation setting apart Nov. 25 as Thanksgiving day, Governor Oglesby has issued a proclamation calling upon the citizens of Illinois to appropriately observe that day as a day of thanksgiving.

—Sharp frost last night.

—Mrs. J. B. Day at St. Mary's fair to-night.

—Attend the fair at the Guards' Armory.

—The Janesville drug clerks are still in Milwaukee.

—The case of the Schlitz Brewing Co. against John Kelly is on trial in the municipal court.

—Kittie, the six year old daughter of F. L. Hayden, is very ill of congestion of the lungs.

—Miss Ida Davies will render one of her choice selections at St. Mary's fair to-morrow night.

—The jury in the circuit court has disagreed on every civil case that has come before it this term.

—The supervisors have concluded their business for the November session, and adjourned until January 13th.

—The Woman's Mission Circle of the Baptist church will meet at the church parlors, to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

—Janesville Commandery No. 2, Knights Templar, assemble in regular session to-morrow evening at Masonic hall.

—There is a report that other of our business blocks are to be heated by steam as soon as the owners decide upon what pattern of boiler to use.

—A party wrecked bridge at Oshkosh sent the trains on the Madison division of the Northwestern road around by way of Janesville, last night.

—That was democratic "stunt" which took a tumble in front of the seat of justice, and not republican as intimated by our morning contemporary.

—A few of our business men still take up a greater part of the sidewalk in displaying their goods. The law on this subject should be enforced.

—Mrs. Stacy's subject last evening was "The Coming of the King," and in that she included the various features attending Christ's appearance.

—The Evansville cut off trestle is completed nearly to the River street bridge. The iron to be used on the bridge has not yet been received.

—An electric light plant on the same system as that here, the Thompson-Houston, is being put in at Aurora. It is expected that thirty lights will be running next week.

—The foot race at the fair grounds last evening was won by Collins. A crowd of some two hundred sporting people from Beloit, Edgerton and this city witnessed the race.

—Apollo hall has been rented by the Janesville branch of the Knights of Labor for one year. The hall has been fitted up with an ante-room to further accommodate the new tenants.

—Some one has suggested that the risk be taken this winter as the foundation of a toboggan slide. The plan proposed was to have the chute extend through the rear of the building and from there out over the river.

—The two Smiths, William and Henry O., are still busy in the municipal court, attempting to show whether or not William Riley is the parent of an illegitimate child, as alleged in the complaint made by a fourth ward young woman.

—Our water works artesian well is now down seventy-five feet at which point a vein of quick sand has been struck. Mr. Swan, the contractor, is being very much annoyed and put back in sinking the well by the non-arrival of pipe.

We are making deep cuts in prices of military goods. Immense reductions in fancy fashions, trimmings, etc. All of our trimmed hats and bonnets marked at cost of materials—about one hundred to choose from. An opportunity not to be neglected. N. Y. SAVING STORE.

—Agent Croft, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, says that thirteen men have gone from here to take place in the Chicago stock yards since Tuesday evening. Three went yesterday morning, five went last night and another party of five left to-day.

—In the place of O. G. Bennett, who is now in Chicago studying, Dr. Thor. Judd has secured as his assistant A. W. Cooper, who comes here highly recommended, having been connected with the office of A. G. Richter & Bro., of Milwaukee, for some time past.

—Next week will be observed by the Young Men's Christian Association all over the United States as a week of prayer. It is suggested, in the circular sent, that the churches also observe the week and if possible hold union meetings. Whether this will be done here is not known.

—Winter and the dark nights that go with it will take newspaper boxes out of the list of desiderables and put them among the absolute necessities. Subscribers would be saved much annoyance and at the same time would do a kindness to the carrier if they would have such a box provided.

—The members of Concordia society are planning for a big time next Monday evening on the occasion of their social dance. Those who are contemplating being present should bear in mind that the tickets are limited and they must be purchased of members. Price, 30 cents.

—People in this part of the state are safe from the oleomargarine oil at least. Collector A. O. Parkinson, whose office is at the capital, informed a Gazette representative last evening that neither in Janesville nor in any other part of his district had any dealers in "teeter" butter come to light.

—A very large number of the young friends of Miss Sophia Lennart, perpetrated a most pleasant surprise upon her last evening, at the home of her parents, ex-Alderman and Mrs. P. J. Lennart, South Franklin street. The occasion was the birthday of Miss Lennart, and the evening was pleasantly spent in innocent games, music and social chat.

—The Sisters' fair at the Guards' armory is nightly drawing large crowds. A large and choice variety of articles is displayed, and the "chances" are being dealt with quite generously. The public is cordially invited, and the price of admission is only ten cents—the hall being open afternoons and evenings. Attend, and show your appreciation of the efforts of the good Sisters.

Hosiery sale this week—N. Y. S. S.

—Little ones occupying all the seats, little ones standing up, and little ones still coming; were what Professor Torrens rested his eyes upon yesterday afternoon. Apollo hall was filled to overflowing and it numbers could insure success the class seemed likely to be successful. The lesson was upon that very essential element in singing—correct breathing! At the close it was announced that hereafter the younger children would meet at four o'clock and those over fourteen at a quarter before five.

—On the two last days of this month a woman suffrage convention is to be held in Janesville, a convention similar to those now being held throughout the state. The object sought is to educate the people on the subject of woman's sphere, dues and rights, and to preach the gospel of human equality. The work is being carried on under the auspices of the Wisconsin Suffrage Association. What the programme in this city will be is not known but the speakers expected to be present are Susan B. Anthony, Clara B. Colby, Mrs. A. B. Gray, Mrs. V. H. Campbell and Mrs. Frater.

—Another meat market has just been opened on South Main street, the proprietors being Mr. Wickham and John Beesly. It is located next to the hardware store of Lawrence & Atwood and seems likely to secure a very fair share of patronage. Mr. Wickham has been in this business before having established himself about a year ago in the shop near Court street bridge. Here he did a very fair business and hopes by his change in location to be even more successful. Customers will find that among the choicest meats will be offered for sale and that the prices will be lower than those of any other place in the city.

—Prof. Foster, the Iowa meteorologist, publishes his predictions of a great storm period extending from December 4 to 17, during which will occur some of the most destructive winter storms of recent years. These storms will be much of the same nature as the great blizzard of last January. Snow and high winds will greatly impede travel, and he advises the railways to prepare for blockades that will occur in the western states about December 5, reaching the eastern states December 9. These storms will break up the drought in the southeastern states. There will be energetic electrical disturbances that will effect telegraph and telephone lines. He suggests that many lives and much property can be saved from loss by making preparations for the severe weather of the storm period.

Underwear sale this week—N. Y. S. S.

—Where's the sheriff? some one has stolen my horse," wailed an excited young man this morning as he came out of a Main street store and found that some one had made away with his rig. The officers were soon found and put on the track. They started to search the country, hoping to catch the culprit before he made his escape, but for a time the search seemed useless. Another consultation was held and not until the squad was starting out for the second time did there come news that a clue had been found. Next to the stolen rig had been latched a literary horse that a young lady had ordered for a drive in the country. In starting she had made a mistake and when the officers began their hunt, she was already half way to Johnston with the animal that they were looking for. Had not the liverrman happened along and identified his property the officers might have been hunting yet.

Underwear sale this week—N. Y. S. S.

—At half past three next Saturday afternoon there will meet in the Congregational church a convention of young people societies from all the cities in this part of the state. The aim is to compare notes on the different methods of work and to take steps toward organizing societies where none now exist. Among the speakers that will be present are President Eaton and Prof. E. G. Smith, of Beloit college; Rev. T. S. Odams, of Shopshire, and F. J. Howard, of Appleton. Saturday afternoon at 4:45 a paper will be read upon "Christian Work for Young People," and in the evening there will be one upon "The Church and Christian Endeavor Societies." The paper upon "Sunday Schools and Christian Endeavor Societies" will not be given until Sunday afternoon and at seven o'clock the convention will listen to an address from President Eaton.

Reception to Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding.

It is doubtful if Janesville ever witnessed a happier gathering than the one that assembled at the spacious residence of Thomas Lappin, Esq., on South First street last evening, to welcome the coming of their rector, the Rev. Henry W. Spaulding, D. D., and his wife. A large majority of the families of the parish were represented, and the occasion was one of great interest and long to be remembered and cherished. A quarter of a century has passed since Rev. H. W. Spaulding was called to take charge of an infant parish which had been organized by Rev. F. J. Rager, and christened "Christ Church." He was the first rector and this was his first parish. Years ago beloved Father Rager, on bright Easter morning, departed this life in "the faith and fear" of the Master he had reverently and devoutly served. Many of the families, then here, are now only represented by their children, and grandchildren. "You baptised me," was many times repeated during the evening, and the eyes of the reverend doctor were many times dimmed with a suppressed tear as he recalled the fact that many of the parents had long since "joined the innumerable host." It was an auspicious gathering and in it, we trust, was foreshadowed the new life and prosperity of the church and parish.
